

Core Driller

Core samples are extracted from the ground and subsequently evaluated by the oil company to determine the quality and depth of oil sands prior to commercialization. Coring operations are most effectively undertaken in the winter months, as the frozen ground conditions permit the deployment of rigs and support equipment to the remote areas of the oil sands

Job Duties:

- Lead crew meetings on Safe Work Procedures. Supervise crew on shift during various activities through progressing of well
- Follow company procedures for hiring, firing & discipline
- Runs or assists in running special tools into the hole
- Constantly is on the lookout for unsafe conditions or acts
- Report and investigate with the Rig Manager all accidents on his shift
- Document daily activities in Tour Book
- Supervise crew during rig up/out operations. Assist trucking companies with equipment spotting
- Provide Rig Manager with information on parts required, maintaining rig supplies
- Provide on the job training to all crew personnel in all aspects of operations
- Operate rig floors controls